ONE CASE
IS MURDER

JUDGE ROBINSON RETAINS FOUR CRIMINAL CASES AND GIVES NINE TO JUDGE DE BOLT.

In an effort to have the criminal calendar of the Circuit Court cleared up, Judge Robinson transferred nine cases from his court to that of Judge De Bolt this morning. The cases are mostly small ones and should not occupy very much time. This leaves Judge Robinson with four cases on hand.

The most important of these is that of Mada and Mianura, the Japanese who are charged with murder. The Davauchelle case also is on this list.
The following cases were transferred to Judge De Bolt:

Wakamoto, embezzlement; Ischi Matsuda, embezzlement; Louis James, burglary, first degree; Tong Kong et al, gambling; Ah Pung, gross cheat; Ah Chuck et al, gambling; Kuaia, assault and battery; Masuda, violating fishing rights; Salsaba, gambling; J.
K. Clark, assault and battery, Mahuyama, gambling.

DEATH OF MRS. HELBUSH.

The death of Mrs. Louis Helbush at Mountain View on Thursday last was a shock to the whole community and the deepest sympathy was extended to the family which only a few months ago was robbed by death of another loved member. The funeral took place on Friday morning, the remains being brought from the former home of the deceased by the morning train and accompanied by a large number of sorrowing relatives and friends. Rev.
Father Wendelin met the funeral party at the station and the mournful procession went directly to the Catholic Church where the usual solemn services for the dead were conducted.
Thence the remains were taken to the grave and reverently consigned to the earth beside the daughter who so recently preceded the mother. The floral tributes were unusually profuse even for this land of flowers and the double grave was hidden by the mass of flowers laid there by sorrowing friends.—Hilo Tribune.

SLIGHT TO
HAWAIIANS

There has been a great deal of severe criticism offered around the streets by the Hawaiians who feel very much slighted over the fact that not a single member of their nationality was placed on the committee called together by the Acting Governor to arrange for the reception and entertainment of Secretary of the Interior Garfield. When asked if there was any special intent in this Acting Governor Mott-Smith said:
"Certainly not. The committee was picked out at random and in a hurry.
John Lane's name was on the list of people picked out. These men suggested a committee of five to have charge. That was done. There was no thought that anyone should feel slighted."

JAPANESE FOR
THE FACULTY

A GRADUATE OF STANFORD IS GIVEN POSITION IN THE ECON-OMICS DEPARTMENT.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, June 2—

That there may soon be Japanese members of the faculty seems imminent from the recent confirmed appointment of Yamato Ichihashi, a graduate with the class of 1907, to the position of assistant in the department of economics. The young Japanese is one of the best economists that the department has ever turned out, and has spent considerable time during the past year in original work along his chosen line. He is well informed on the political and economical history of this Nation and Japan and is well known among the Japanese in San Francisco, where he has made several speeches on political economy and the relations between the United States and Japan.
As an assistant his work will be for the most part clerical, and he will have no part in the actual instruction of the department.

A new department of political science has been added to the curriculum at Stanford, and courses will be given in this field when college opens next September. Burt Estes Howard, at present pastor of the First Unitarian Church of Los Angeles, has been called to fill the chair as head of the department. Professor Howard was at one time a member of the faculty, lecturing in the department of economics and is considered one of the leading educators in the field of political economy.

The new department will be closely associated with the department of economics and it is probable that work done in political science will count as major department work for students registered in the economics department. The instruction to be given under the direction of Professor Howard will be a valuable addition to the cur-
